

PRESS RELEASE

NEW LEADERSHIP AT WELCOME AVIATION GROUP

(Innsbruck, 16 January 2013) As of the start of the year, Oliver Ladurner, MSc, has left the Welcome Aviation Group. For 14 years Mr Ladurner successfully performed a variety of roles within the group. He has now chosen to step down from the board of Tyrol Air Ambulance, Welcome Air and Air Alps. "After several intensive months leading the Welcome Aviation Group and managing a number of important areas for the company's future, I am now focusing my attention on new tasks. It was an extremely interesting time spent with committed employees and a reliable and dependable owner", says the departing CEO.

Mr Ladurner is departing by mutual agreement with the owner. The Swiss-based Remi Finanz- und Verwaltungs AG thanks him in particular for assuming the role of CEO in a time of extreme financial turbulence, for his commitment and for achieving mutually agreed goals.

A professional continuation of business has been assured through the appointment of Manfred Helldoppler and Dr Carolin Porcham. The owner transfers with immediate effect the leadership and management of the company to those members of staff already serving on the managing board.
